

Len Sheer

Managing Director & Global Head of Debt Capital Markets Capital Advisory Group

Len Sheer is global head of debt capital markets at Piper Jaffray. In this role, Sheer manages all corporate debt financing activity including bank debt, subordinated and mezzanine debt, public and private high yield, as well as regular way exchange offers.

Sheer joined Piper Jaffray from Cowen Group, Inc., where he co-founded and was co-head of debt capital markets. Previously, he was a managing director in debt capital markets at Gleacher & Company and a senior analyst at the debt- and equity-specialized hedge fund, Pardus Capital. Prior to Pardus, Sheer was an M&A officer at Lehman Brothers and BNY Mellon. He began his career as an associate at Fieldstone Private Capital Group.
