

Marykay Fuller

KPMG, Partner, London

Marykay is a Partner at KPMG, in deal advisory where she advises corporate clients as well as creditor clients including banks, hedge funds, special situation funds and private equity funds on their restructuring options both in and out of insolvency.

She specialises in financial restructuring, having been a banker and a principal unsecured creditor in both European and US multi-party, multi-jurisdictional restructurings in a number of sectors responsible for developing workout strategies, financial terms and legal structures of settlement proposals in bankruptcies and out-of-court restructurings for creditor claims.

Prior to joining KPMG, Marykay was a banker at the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development (EBRD) holding positions in credit structuring and sanctioning in London as well as servicing as the Deputy Head, then Country Head of the EBRD operations in Ukraine from 1997-2000.

Marykay started her finance career in the US working first as an equity analyst for Oppenheimer Funds and then as a principal at the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC) in the corporate finance and negotiations group where she represented PBGC on some of the largest and highest profile Chapter 11 restructurings of that time.

Marykay holds a master degree from Carnegie Mellon in finance and public policy and a bachelor of science degree in Economics from Allegheny College. She is also a Certified Insolvency and Restructuring Advisor (CRA).

Marykay currently sits on the Board of British American Business (London) and previously served on the Board of the H. John Heinz school at Carnegie Mellon University.
