

Rob Albergotti

ralbergotti@alixpartners.com

+1 713 276 4912

+1 214 212 1685

Houston Office

Robert has worked with senior management teams, attorneys, creditors, and private-equity sponsors at all levels to identify process improvements, to spot business trends, and to take advantage of financial opportunities as a consultant and business unit controller.

He has a wealth of experience globally, with extensive operating experience in Europe and Asia. Robert has had experience in the development and implementation of complex restructuring solutions to maximize value for all stakeholders through internal reorganizations, asset dispositions, divisional shutdowns, and Chapter 11 restructurings. Robert has worked on behalf of companies to negotiate debt financing options with numerous financial institutions.

Prior to joining AlixPartners, Robert was based in Amsterdam with Akzo Nobel, where he was controller in a global product and manufacturing business delivering specialty chemicals to semiconductor producers.

Relevant experience

- Managed the in court restructuring process of a $500 million unconventional E&P player with onshore assets in Texas, California, Wyoming. Led discussions with bank and lending group to fund a $125 million debtor in possession loan.
- Served as chief restructuring officer (CRO) of an onshore and offshore oil field services company; successfully implemented out-of-court restructuring with secured lenders, reducing company debt by $300 million. Key tasks involved negotiating forbearance agreements with 1L and 2L lenders, implementing strict cash management procedures, and providing interim executive leadership upon the resignation of the CEO.
- Assisted in the chapter 11 planning and execution of Energy and Exploration Partners.
- Served as interim chief financial officer (CFO) of a global furniture manufacturer overseeing a comprehensive financial and operational restructuring. Renegotiated terms of over $300 million of secured debt.
- Served as CRO of a natural gas storage facility; negotiated comprehensive settlement with secured and unsecured creditors, thereby reducing the secured debt burden by 50%; settled $70 million in trade debt; and reduced operating expenses by 20%.
- Assisted and advised global construction services company with an out-of-court refinancing that led to a significant realignment of internal costs, including analysis and disposition of several joint venture structures.