

Ryan Bartley is a partner in the Bankruptcy and Restructuring Section of Young Conaway Stargatt & Taylor, LLP, where he has practice since 2007.

Ryan's practice is primarily focused on company-side engagements in chapter 11 cases, where he handles both transactional and litigation matters. Ryan also has experience representing debt-holders, buyers and individual creditors in major chapter 11 cases, as well as special committees of board and other independent fiduciaries in and out of chapter 11 cases.

Ryan's recent debtor engagements include the chapter 11 cases of: Peer Street, Inc.; Codiak Biosciences, Inc.; 225 Bowery; and the Zohar funds. Ryan has also represented parties in the recent chapter 11 cases of: Prime Trust; Claim Jumper Acquisition; Clovis Oncology; Kabbage; ASTECH Engineered Products; and CMC II.

Ryan holds a J.D. from the Emory University School of Law and a B.S.B.A from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Ryan is admitted to practice in the State of Delaware.